GYM WIZARD

Gym Wizard provides fast, professional and reliable gym upholstery and repair solutions for the fitness equipment sector. With over 30 years of industry experience, we guarantee a high-quality, hassle-free service for every client with no gym downtime and minimal disruption to operations.

We specialise in on-site gym upholstery and repair, operating a fleet of unique mobile workshops throughout the UK. Our vans have been designed to include all the tools required to reupholster your equipment, ensuring that we don't create any mess or noise on-site, and limiting the number of machines that are out of action at any one time. We will always act professionally, with even the largest gyms fully refitted within a day.

Our skilled team is also fully equipped to take on a range of gym pad manufacturing, no matter the requirements. We work closely with clients throughout the process, from the initial design to prototypes and manufacturing; developing pad concepts that bring your ideas to life. Clients can also opt for our repair or exchange services from our facilities in the North West, ideal for gyms with a small number of pads in need of repair.

All gym pads we re-cover use only the highest quality materials, including industry-compliant, fire and stain-resistant, Crib 5 vinyl. Available in a wide range of colours, we will work with you to develop a bespoke solution that meets your requirements, including the addition of embroidered or printed company branding and custom stitching.

I found Gym Wizard to be a first class outfit. They came in while my gym was open, at a time suitable to me, and re-upholstered all 16 pieces of equipment without disturbing any members. I would definitely recommend them.

OUR APPROACH TO REDUCING WASTE

As the fitness industry increasingly moves towards sustainable practices, we recognise that reducing waste is a key consideration for gym owners and operators. Gym equipment is an often-overlooked aspect of the recycling process, with many owners opting to replace, rather than refurbish, worn parts. Our reupholstery services offer a greener and more cost-effective alternative, preventing 97.5% more waste from entering landfill sites.

Plastic can only be recycled two or three times before its quality prevents it from being used in most applications. Conversely, gym pads can easily be re-upholstered up to 10 times without needing to replace the wood or foam padding, making it an increasingly viable option for businesses in the health and fitness sector.

"Some larger operators tend to replace their gym pads when they show the earliest signs of wear and tear, which often leads to a large build-up of discarded equipment," explains Managing Director Chris Medley. "By reupholstering their equipment, our clients can reduce their waste by 95%"

Alongside reupholstering pads, we are taking our commitment to waste reduction a step further to offer clients a high-quality fabric manufactured entirely from recycled plastic. Suitable for furniture and breakout areas, the material is flame-retardant, abrasion-resistant, and manufactured to IMO standards.

"Whilst we're delighted to be able to give customers the option of sustainable fabrics for breakout areas, recycled fabrics are not yet available to recover gym equipment," Chris adds. "The industry is moving in the right direction, but the need to reupholster pads instead of replacing them is still greater than ever."

KEY STATS

National Geographic found that plastics, including polyvinyl chloride (PVC) fabrics, take up 79% of the space in landfills.

The latest government figures show that England generated 186.64 million tonnes of waste in 2018. 16.59% of that waste was attributed to businesses.
